“The Church is not a museum of saints,
but a hospital for sinners.”
Saint Augustine

St. Augustine of Hippo (354–430)

“Our hearts are restless until they rest in You, O Lord.”

God's Mercy Transforms shame into mission - from sinner to
"Apostle to the Apostles."

St. Mary Magdalene

St. Paul the Apostle

No sin or past is too great for God to redeem

St. Peter (Simon Peter)

God builds His Church not on perfection, but on repentant hearts.

St. Matthew (The Apostle)

Jesus calls us in the middle of our sin and transforms our purpose.

St. Francis of Assisi (1181 - 1226)

Conversion often means turning from comfort to compassion

God can redirect ambition and energy toward His greater glory

St. Ignatius of Loyola (1491 - 1556)

St. Dismas (The Good Thief)

It's never too late for grace - repentance at any moment can lead to holiness

St. Margaret of Cortona (1247-1297)

Deep sin can become the soil for deep compassion

St. Camillus de Lellis
(1550 - 1614)

God can heal the most wounded hearts
to heal others

St. Mary of Egypt
(344 - 421)

No one is beyond redemption - God's mercy reaches the most lost

St. Moses the Black (330 - 405)

God transforms even the most violent hearts into instruments of peace
